

Feedback on Shakespeare Workshop 25th February from European School Copenhagen

Moje: 'I enjoyed the interactive activities. Also the introduction in the beginning helped creating a more personal environment which I appreciated and liked a lot.'

Nele: 'I thoroughly enjoyed the Shakespeare workshop with Ian Burns. It was engaging and inclusive, with everyone participating actively. I particularly appreciated the warm-up exercises and the work on Shakespeare, which provided us with valuable insights.'

Annika: 'I really enjoyed the workshop since it gave us a better understanding of the chapters especially the acting out of the scenes. One of my favorite parts from the workshop was using the Shakespeare results to insult our classmates. I also liked the warmup activities that we did where we could experience how it feels to act and having a role in a theatre. We also learned more about Shakespeare himself and how he lived his life.'

Maria: 'We started off with a nice warm-up of vocalizing sounds, and I enjoyed the trust activity, which combined a balance of fear and safety. Reading scene 1, act 1, with the background sound made the performance seem more real. I thought it was also inspiring for him to begin with an introduction of himself, how he met his wife, and how he got his football jersey. Thank you very much for the fun Shakespeare workshop.'

Sara: 'The workshop was a nice bonding experience for the class and everyone had a chance to try to act, and have everyone listen to them. It unlocked a unique perspectives on Shakespearean texts which were not before considered.'

Marlene: 'Dear Ian and That Theatre Company, The workshop that I participated in was so fun and engaging. I learned a lot more about Shakespeare and The Tempest despite having studied it in class with our teacher. It was the perfect mix of education and activity. Thanks for the experience.'

Evan: 'I really liked Ian's workshop. It was very interesting and i didn't get bored. The activities were also fun and a good way to build confidence in talking in front of people.'

Andželīna: 'I think the workshop was a great opportunity to get a better understanding of the Tempest, as we got to act out some scenes, which allowed us to notice smaller details and see various interpretations.'

Pauline: 'Great workshop, very engaging and provided an in depth understanding of Shakespeare's work. Our class really enjoyed it and it was a new and interesting way of learning.'
